

Mulieris Dignitatem* and the Church's Social Vision: The Feminine Genius in the Pursuit of the Common Good

October 23, 2008

Call for Papers

What is the feminine genius and how can its existence be verified?

What are its philosophical or theological foundations?

What is its relationship to the complementarity of men and women?

What is the role of the feminine genius in pursuing the common good?

What are its policy implications?

Keynote address by Dr. Pia Francesca de Solenni

Awarded the 2001 Pontifical Prize of the Academies by Pope John Paul II

Proposals are due June 30, 2008

Email to Dr. Deborah Savage at pdsavage@stthomas.edu or Dr. Mary Lemmons at rmlemmons@stthomas.edu

Organized by The Siena Symposium for Personalist Feminism as part of the sister conferences on Women and the Recovery of Culture

October 22-24, 2008

University of St. Thomas
Saint Paul, Minnesota

For more information, visit www.stthomas.edu/siena

Day 1—October 22, 2008

The Feminine Genius at Work in the World Co-Sponsored by the Archdiocese of Saint Paul and Minneapolis

Day 2—October 23, 2008

Mulieris Dignitatem and the Church's Social Vision: The Feminine Genius in the Pursuit of the Common Good

Day 3—October 24, 2008

Visions of Women's Leadership Sponsored by the Holloran Center for Ethical Leadership

UNIVERSITY of ST. THOMAS

Mulieris Dignitatem and the Church's Social Vision: The Feminine Genius in the Pursuit of the Common Good

Co-sponsored by the Murphy Institute for Law and Public Policy, Center for Catholic Studies, Saint Paul Seminary School of Divinity,
John A. Ryan Institute for Catholic Social Thought, College of Arts & Sciences, and the Departments of Philosophy and Theology.